DAY 4 : BERBER COLORS / KIK PLATEAU / OUIRGANE / MARRAKESH

Breakfast and departure in 4x4 through the Atlas. A small winding road goes up to the plateau of Kik offering a beautiful panoramic view on the plain of Haouz. Crossing small Berber villages before joining the holy village of Moulay Brahim. Then you will reach the village of Ouirgane through the mountain. This locality embedded in the greenery is a place of pleasant and fresh relaxation. In the basin of Ouirgane are salt works, in an almost alpine landscape, at 1 000 m of altitude. Continuation through the High Atlas. The winding road offers beautiful landscapes and joins the lake of Ouirgane with turquoise waters. Arrival at Tinmel. Visit of its famous mosque which was built in 1153. After the fall of the Almohads, it had fallen into ruin. Important restoration work was undertaken from 2003 to 2006 to restore the mosque to its nobility.

Lunch and then drive to Marrakech.

Check-in at the hotel, dinner and overnight.

DAY 5 : MARRAKESH

After breakfast, day dedicated to the visit of Marrakech. Visit of the capital of the south which gave its name to the country : the Koutoubia or "mosque of the Libraries" built in the 12th century ; The Saâdian tombs, splendid mausoleums of the 16th century with the twelve columns, a masterpiece of Hispano-Moorish art ; The Bahia Palace, a maze of corridors and staircases built in the last century with beautiful gardens ; The gardens of the Menara with its large irrigation basin.

Lunch in an old palace of the medina.

In the afternoon visit the souks offering a rich and varied craftsmanship spread out. Each neighborhood corresponds to a trade. Here you will find tajines dishes, pottery and beautiful ceramics with blue cobalt decoration. The souk of the basket makers leads to that of the potters. A little further on is the souk of dry fruits and spices. The souk Smarine occupied by many merchants of fabrics. You will also see an alley with apothecary shops and glass ware shops. This lane leads you to Rahba Kedima, an ancient grain market that was also the slave market. The small lively square is surrounded by several souks : the first is devoted to wool, the second to sheepskins. You will pass through the souk of the jewelers and then to the souk of the leather merchants, dyers, blacksmiths, brass...

Dinner and overnight at the hotel.

DAY 6 : MARRAKECH / ESSAOUIRA / MARRAKECH

After breakfast. departure for a day excursion to Essaouira. Stop a bit before the city to visit an argan oil cooperative. Built on a rocky peninsula, Essaouira, ex-Mogador, surprises by its isolation. The city has the stamp of the very old counters. Traced by the French engineer Cournot, Es-saouira means "well drawn". Its ramparts at the Vauban, the rectilinear layout of its main streets and their width are unusual for a Muslim city. Visit of the city : the fishing port, the ramparts, and the medina.

Lunch at the restaurant.

Free time for personal discovery. The artisanal specialty of the city is the wood work of tuya and olive tree. There are also many workshops of painters who are little known or not known but realize surprising works ! Return to Marrakech, dinner and overnight.
